Danielson and the Putnam lodges have signified their intentions of attending the affair in large delegations and it is expected that the Norwich lodge will send up quite a number.

Moose Will Probably Hold Carnival.
There is some talk about the city as to the feasibility of holding the Moose carnival while the city remains under quarantine. Although some of the members know that they may be forbidden to carry out their plans for the annual affair they are going ahead with the preparations for the event. As Mayor D. P. Dunn was out of the city Tuesday it was impossible to get his views on the matter but it is thought that if children under sixteen years of age are excluded that no objections will be made.

Health Situation Unchanged.
The infantile paralysis conditions in the city remained unchanged Tuesday so far as any new cases are concerned. The two cases that are within the city limits are improving steadily and the health officers of the city and town are optimistic over the matter. Health Officer Cram, of Mansfield, stated that as yet he had received no complaint from the local officials in regard to the bathing that has been going on in the Penton river. He also stated that if the officials of this city can do anything to prevent people from bathing in that locality they are welcome to go ahead and do what they can in the matter.

Second Day of Institute—Navy Chaplain Among Speakers—Thirty-five Cottageholders Attend Annual Meeting—Jason L. Randall Elected President—John W. Rose Returns to Play Double Bass.

The devotional service for the second morning of the Institute was addressed by Rev. O. J. Aldrich, who last spring was appointed by Bishop Quayle to Stafford Springs.

President Dodd announced that both tennis and quail tournaments were being arranged for. Thanksgiving—God's Goodness, was the theme of Rev. Mr. Aldrich, who read from Psalm 93, and Luke 10. I need not prove God is good, said the speaker. We see His generosity in the harvests. His kindness in dealing with us. It is fitting that we should say with Christ, "Father, I thank Thee." Natfziger conducted the preliminary service.

The shower of the early morning had laid the dust. A cool breeze mitigated the sun's heat.
The Real Life.
Dr. Wright in the first period of study, emphasized the Real Life. We think when we look upon the great war that life is cheap, and the way some men waste their lives indicates the same. But life is the most precious thing there is, for it is fundamental. One genuine live saint is worth a hundred of those who are only saints in spots. We must realize Christ, and take time to be holy. Our prayer life must be a living thing. It is the supreme power of man. Christianity is not the church, but a life. It is Paul's "mystery." Christ in you, the hope of glory. There is a life, which means just getting a living, and there is a life called by Paul "the life indeed." God wants all to be superior men and women, not mere dollar-winner animals.

Revelation Gradual.
Dr. Goodell in the next period continued the teaching of Bible Study. Revelation is gradual. We would not think now of trying out Mohammedanism and Christianity, as Elijah did on Mt. Carmel by fire. In these days missionaries do not kill. Priests, as Elijah killed the 400 prophets of Baal. The recent idea of three times was, "Our God can lick every other god."

Gradually a more tribal god became the God of the nations. Jonah was the first foreign missionary. By and by came the Christ, who taught that "God so loved the world." So today we can illustrate God's truth in terms of steam and electricity, of hospitals and charities. Revelation progresses and out of the Bible. It took 1500 years to make the Bible. It had some thirty human authors, but is all divine.

We are yet progressing in God's revelation along sanitary, industrial and spiritual lines. It is just as revealing to see the progress of the constitutional prohibition, as to see Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord, God, Almighty. The millennium is come when men take God in all their hearts.

Foreign Missions.
Dr. Perkins, expected Monday, arrived Tuesday, and was pleasantly surprised to find that a program sent him had failed to reach him, and he had considered an earlier plan as the one he should go by.

He read the story of Zacharias. Jesus saw good in him, although no one else did. Horace Bushnell saw "long ago a beautiful pearl in the dumping ground near the Hartford railroad station, and we know now what a beautiful pearl has been made there, bearing his name."

Dr. Perkins alluded to the various religions and temples of China, giving a fine description of the beautiful temple to the heavens in Peking; also, an interesting picture of the Chinese New Year celebration and worship.

Dr. Spaulding Answers Questions.
At 11:30 Junior League methods were continued. Dr. Spaulding spent in the first part of the period answering questions. Then he had a demonstration, assuming those present to be children. He drew word pictures of Bible characters, and they were guessed by different persons.

Afternoon Exercises.
The usual children's class met at 1 o'clock in the New London House. It was addressed by Mr. Spaulding and Miss Halford, the deaconess assisting Miss Robertson.

U. S. Navy Chaplain Speaks.
Chaplain Charlton, stationed at Newport, was the speaker at 2 p. m. Prayer was offered by Rev. E. J. Ayres, of Norwich.
The children told of meeting with the Ralph Waldo Emerson in his early life, one of the benefits he got from that great man's books. He described the characteristics of the various apostles, men of all temperaments. This encourages us to believe God has something for each of us. We need not wish we were someone else.

Dr. Perkins on Blessings.
As Chaplain Charlton had to go back to his duties in Newport, E. J., at 3 his address was brief. He was followed by Dr. E. C. Perkins, who read the story of the healing of the man with the withered hand. He spoke on Blessings at Arm's Length. We have more blessing near at hand than we dream of. God says to us, "Stretch forth thy hand," and find the cure for all our ills. "God commands what seems to be impossible, remember the command implies the power. We do our little part. God does the greatest part."

He closed with earnest prayer. The benediction was pronounced by

Cottage Holders' Meeting.
At 4 o'clock Tuesday there was a good attendance of cottage holders at the annual meeting at the New London house.

The president, Jason L. Randall, called the meeting to order, and offered prayer. The secretary, A. H. Newell, of Rockville, read the minutes, and also the resolutions prepared upon the death of the former vice president, B. B. Gardner.

Some 35 cottage holders were present. Van R. Wheeler, of Providence, stated the reasons why no grocery store could be on the grounds at the present time. Some canned goods and other things are for sale at the bakery. Several suggestions for improvement were made, along the lines of better roads and sanitation. The chair appointed Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Cleaveland to bring in a list of officers for the coming year. The following names were brought in, and the president of the nominating committee was instructed to cast a ballot for J. L. Randall, Grotton, president; Harold Hill of East Hampton, vice president; and A. R. Newell, of Rockville, secretary. The following fifteen delegates were elected to the annual meeting of the Camp Meeting association: Mrs. Smith E. Talcott, Rockville; Mrs. Jane E. Read, Worcester; Mrs. Costello Lippitt, Norwich; Mrs. Nettie Dunston, Miss Addie Webber, Mrs. Jacob Betts, Mrs. George Woodward, Mrs. Jas. Purdie, Mrs. Sarah Sumner and Mrs. W. H. Burlington, all of Willimantic; Miss Alice E. Strong, Boston; W. L. Rackus and Mrs. Julia Hart of Manchester; George Buckland of East Hampton, and A. R. Newell, of Rockville. The meeting then adjourned.

Dr. Wright's Sermon.
A most able sermon was preached Monday evening by Dr. A. E. Wright, of Springfield, from Psalm 137:1, "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it." Not a single law of God can be violated without calamity.

Man thinks he can disobey God, and men won't know. But he will find sooner or later it is impossible for him to get by God. The ultimate force of this universe is not gunpowder and steel, but love and brotherhood. All lawless labor is lost. Man cannot grow a soul. If he simply piles up gold, God gives us a lifetime in which to build a life. You cannot prodigal the years, and find a heavenly character the last fifteen minutes of life. You cannot play with God's laws and get by. We must not violate the building laws of character. You can't be a mollycoddle in this world. God gives you the materials, but you must build. What is your foundation? Is God the Master Builder?

His many friends are glad to see again the face of John W. Rose, of South Windham, upon the platform. He handles the box of his big President double bass with his usual skill. This, with the violin and piano, forms a pleasing orchestra.

EXPLORER'S NOVEL EQUIPMENT.

Tents Provided With Heavy Floors as Protection Against Reptiles.

American soldiers and militiamen doing duty along the border of reptile-infested Mexico would relish the adoption in the United States of a type of tent used by the National Geographic Society. Yale University Expedition to Peru Professor Hiram Bingham, describes the explorers' equipment in the National Geographic Magazine.

The general supplies include tents provided with heavy canvas floors sewed to the walls, and mosquito nets, making the tent practically insect and snake-proof; saddles made especially for the narrow-backed Andean mules and fitted with stirrups and two heavy girths to prevent slipping on the steep trails; halter bridles (Peruvian saddle animals will rarely, if ever, drink without having the halter taken out of their mouths, so that the halter bridles with its bit connected by snip hooks, is a great convenience); sack covers to keep the loads dry during the frequent rainstorms; duffle bags of heavy waterproof material; fibre bases and air-tight steel boxes. "Besides these things we were prepared to furnish each member of the party with blankets, snow-glasses, folding bucket, folding wash-basin, coat, aluminum cooking outfit, small kerosene stove with Primus burner, folding brass lantern, sewing kit, canteen, pocket tool-kit, rubber poncho."

Winchester rifle, Colt revolver, camera, tripod, and photographic record and calculator.
